

The focus of this course is on helping the family manage their financial resources appropriately to the glory of God. We therefore encourage users to study this manual as a family. As a result of this self-study manual, we expect African families to become more financially prudent by creating situations for sustainable financial freedom for generations to come.